

SUB
E2

34. (Amended) A photosensitive member comprising:

substrate;

a charge generating layer being formed on the substrate and containing an organic charge generating material;

C2 a charge transporting layer being formed in the charge generating layer and containing a charge transporting material and a first binder resin; and an exterior surface layer being formed on the charge transporting layer and containing tantalum doped tin oxide and a second binder resin.